Foreword

The Royal Museum for Central Africa (RMCA) has always been very interested in archive material (letters, maps, reports) related to exploratory expeditions in Central Africa in general and to the journeys and commissions of Henry Morton Stanley (1841-1904) in particular. When on 10 May 1954 the museum commemorated the fiftieth anniversary of the death of Stanley with a solemn ceremony and an exhibition, it already owned 34 of the 77 items presented. At that time these were principally donations from institutions and private individuals. On the occasion of this celebration, then director Frans Olbrechts contacted Denzil M. Stanley, the stepson of the explorer. A deep friendship developed between them that resulted one month later in a large donation of approximately 300 pieces of memorabilia including some extremely valuable items.

After the death of Denzil M. Stanley in 1959, the contacts were continued, now between Richard M. Stanley, the stepson of Denzil, and Mr. Marcel Luwel, head of the history department of the museum. He was given free access to examine and study the archive of Henry Morton Stanley at Stanley's country estate "Furze Hill" in Pirbright, Surrey. In 1982, this continuing friendship and the lack of interest in England for the life and work of the explorer resulted in Richard declaring that he was prepared to sell to the Belgian state all the inherited paper testimony that was present at Furze Hill. At the proposal of governor R. Lamy, the Société Générale de Belgique and five subsidiaries were prepared to pay the requested amount. The only remaining problem concerned the export licence, but a solution to this was found. The Africa Museum in Tervuren was the logical place to store the collection. To this end the former curator's residence to the left of the museum was completely renovated and renamed the "Stanley Pavilion". Particular attention was paid to fire protection, including the installation of fireproof vaults. The building was inaugurated on 24 February 1987 and since then the inherited archives of Henry Morton Stanley have been safely housed here.

It was initially assumed that all of the archive items were transferred from Furze Hill to Belgium in 1982. However, in 2000 Christie's contacted the museum to say that the family - Richard Stanley had died in the meantime - had found 4 more boxes with miscellaneous archive material. After inspecting the items, it appeared that they complemented those purchased previously. This time it was the King Baudouin Foundation that provided the required resources and purchased this second part of the archive. It is referred to below as the Stanley Papers Part II.

On 24 November 2002, Christie's put up the entire contents of Furze Hill for auction. Interesting photo albums and other documents again surfaced, but the high prices being asked meant that only one lot could be purchased, the so-called "Belgian honours" (Stanley Papers Part III). Exactly one year later, a few items that had found no buyer the year before were put up for auction. We were able to acquire three lots (Stanley Papers Part IV). The purchase of these was also made possible by the support of the King Baudouin Foundation.

The Stanley Archives located in the RMCA in Tervuren thus consists of three parts: the part that was obtained in 1982 by the Société Générale de Belgique (Stanley Papers I), the parts that were purchased via Christie's in 2001-2003 by the King Baudouin Foundation (Stanley Papers II-III-IV) and the separate items that were acquired at auctions or presented to the museum during the course of the past half century.

The most valuable and extensive part is the Stanley Papers I collection. After its purchase in 1982 by the Société Générale de Belgique S.A., an agreement was reached on 19 February 1987 whereby it was transferred to the RMCA and housed in the "Stanley Pavilion." In an agreement of 24 January 2003, the entire archives were transferred to the King Baudouin Foundation.

A study and inventory of the entire Stanley Archives has been underway for a number of years. In 1990-91, a combination of temporary forces gave the project an initial impulse, with a view toward an exhibition and associated book titled H. M. Stanley. Explorateur au service du Roi (1991). Afterwards, Dr. Jan Goris dedicated himself to the description and identification of the archive material. In 1999, he was succeeded by Maurits Wynants. After the purchase in September 2000 of the Stanley Papers Part II, the King Baudouin Foundation placed the historian Peter Daerden at the disposal of the museum for a period of two years in order to bring the inventorying activities to a proper conclusion.

The many manipulations of the totality of the archives by the heirs and the fact that it was divided into parts (see parts I and II) meant that its content, especially the letters, was very cluttered. Thus it was necessary to come up with a new system of ordering that made use of an acceptable classification system and that promoted a high level of accessibility for the researcher. This has been done, while preserving the broad outlines of the original classification. Apart from only a few items, the entirety of the archive is in reasonable to very good condition. With a view toward future preservation, all separate records (all letters and all separate photos) were stored in acid-proof folders.

We would first of all like to thank the King Baudouin Foundation in the person of Mr. Dominique Allard. He was not only behind the initiatives for the purchases made in 2000, 2002 and 2003, but he also provided the continuous financial and moral stimuli necessary to complete the inventory work. We are also grateful to Mr. Philippe Marechal for the infinite confidence he placed in us and for his unceasing support. We found Mr. Guido Gryseels an enthusiastic source of inspiration from the beginning of his directorship. He was immediately able to assess the full, i.e. international, value of the Stanley Archive. Also included in our gratitude are Dr. Jan Goris, who was responsible for a large part of the task of making an inventory of the Stanley Papers Part I, and all Stanley-Pavilion personnel, whose assistance was sometimes called upon at various times. A special note of gratitude goes to Mr. Gustaaf Janssens, archivist at the Royal Palace, for his support, to

Mrs. Anne De Breuck, project officer for the King Baudouin Foundation, for her supporting administrative role, and to the members of the “Stanley Scientific Committee” that was established on the occasion of the purchases by the King Baudouin Foundation, for their patronage.
